

[illegible]

Abstract

An input circuit which in the course of a boundary scan test makes an interruption in one or both signal feeds clearly detectable is proposed for integrated circuits with differential data inputs.